

It's Not Enough

There was a Shulamite girl ,loved a young shepherd boy.
When the King's call brought her to His throne
He said I'll give you everything if you will give your love to me
What I offer your no other can afford

She said I love the shepherd boy he gives me so much joy
And your right he can't afford all of your things
And even though my love is poor he still gives me so much more
Right now he wears no crown but He's my King

It's not enough---- It's not enough
It's not enough to trade away my shepherds love
When this worldly treasures gone he'll still love me just as strong
When it comes to this worlds stuff It's not enough

Just like the Shulamite there's a Shepherd in my life
And the love He's given me there's so much joy
And though the world has often cried I'll give you things that satisfy
The price I'd have to pay I can't afford
If you had ever met the one who has captured my hearts love
Then you'd understand the reason I refuse
When a million years are gone He'll still love me just as strong
You see I've won the prize that I just can't lose
